RUN4ROME RELAY FAQ

Can I take part in the relay?

Participation is open to athletes who are at least 18 years old on the day of the event. Each athlete must be in possession of a valid medical certificate attesting to their fitness to participate in non-competitive sporting activities (a certificate for competitive sports is also accepted).
One of the four relay legs will be shorter than 10 km and participants who are at least 16 years old on the date of the event may run that leg (Please note: the relay leg distances have not yet been announced).
Registration for the Run4Rome Relay is by team. If you have not already done so, find three friends to run with and register together! Alternatively, write to relay@runromethemarathon.com and we will find a team for you!

Is it mandatory to choose a Charity to take part in the Run4Rome Relay?

Yes. Registration is completed directly through one of the charities participating in the Run4Rome Charity Program.
The goals of the relay are very simple:
1) have fun with your friends
2) raise funds to support important charitable projects

REGISTRATION

How can I purchase race bibs?

Acea Run4Rome Relay race bibs can be obtained through the charities participating in the project (each charity freely sets its own donation amount). Registration must then be completed at www.runromethemarathon.com using the code received. This is not simply an entry fee but a genuine donation supporting one of many charitable projects.

Can I register and pay on site?

No. Registration and payment must be completed only through the procedure described above.

Until when can I register?

Registration must be completed on the event website in the dedicated section by 06/03/2027, unless the deadline is changed due to a sell-out.

Can we register even if we do not yet have the medical certificate?

Yes. To register you must accept the waiver declaring that you hold a valid medical certificate. Our staff will NOT ask for medical certificates or declarations when collecting race bibs.

How can we check that registration has been completed?

The online registration portal automatically sends a confirmation email to each team member when the codes provided by the Charity are redeemed. You can also verify your registration here: endu.net/it/events/run4rome/entry/verifyendu.net/it/events/run4rome/entry/verify
Further practical information will be sent a few days before the race.

What should I do if I have problems during registration?

Contact run4rome@evodata.it and you will receive a reply within 48 working hours.

When and how is the order of relay runners decided?

If you register your own team, the system will ask each athlete to choose a relay leg. If the Charity registers the team, simply tell them which leg you would like to run.

Confirmation letter

A few days before the race, all team members will receive an email that serves as the official confirmation letter.
This email contains all the instructions needed to collect your race bib and take part in the event. You do not need to print it; you may show it on a smartphone or tablet.

Where do we collect the race bibs?

You can collect your race bib and race pack at the Run Rome The Marathon 2027 Expo Village. The venue and opening times will be announced later.

Which documents are required?

To collect the race bibs, team members, the team representative or a delegate must present:
- a copy of a valid ID (on smartphone or tablet) for all team members
- the confirmation email (on smartphone or tablet) for all team members

Can I collect my race bib on race day?

No.

Safety Procedures

Special safety procedures will be implemented in accordance with current regulations. Only the official bag supplied by the organization, labelled with your bib number, may be brought into the technical area. Additional details, including any health protocols, will be provided before race day and summarized in the 'Race Day Info'.

Bag Drop Service

The Organization will provide a free bag drop near the start of each relay leg. Full details will be provided before the event.
Participants are advised not to leave valuables in the bag. Although the organizers will take the utmost care, they cannot be held responsible for theft.

How to reach the relay changeover areas

Further information will be provided before the event and summarized in the 'Race Day Info'.

RACE DAY

When is the relay and when does the first leg start?

Acea Run4Rome will take place on Sunday, 14 March 2027. Start times may change due to technical, organizational or health-related requirements.
The first relay leg will start at approximately 9:00 a.m. on Via dei Fori Imperiali. Access times to the start area will be communicated later and may be subject to change.

Start of the following relay legs

Runners in the second, third and fourth legs must wait in the changeover area corresponding to their relay number. Full changeover procedures will be communicated before the event.

Will there be refreshment stations?

Refreshment stations will be available at the finish and along the course, no more than 5 km apart. Each runner will receive refreshments at the end of their relay leg.

Timing and results

Timing will be carried out using an electronic transponder (chip) provided with the race bib. Athletes or teams who remove or damage the chip cannot be timed and will not appear in the official results.

Where can I find the results?

Results (listed alphabetically by team) will be available through the links on www.runromethemarathon.com. Participants will also be able to download their participation certificate.

Medical assistance

An appropriate medical service will be available along the course, with a medical station at the end of each relay leg.

After each relay leg

After finishing each relay leg, runners will receive their participation medal, access the refreshment area and post-finish services (bag drop, toilets, etc.) and will find public transport connections to reach the finish area.
